HOW A RUSSIAN FACED DEATH.

A Passant's Last Thoughts of His Wife.

One night, says a Russian army doctor, in a wood, before the roar of the guns had quite ceased, we started to bring in the wounded. At a distance we saw a soldier raise himself slightly and beckon to us. He was wrapped in his big cloak, which was drenched with blood. He could hardly speak. His face, as we looked at him by the light of the smoky torch, was already that of a corpse.

"Well, what do you want, little brother?"
"If you would be so kind, write a letter for me to my wife to tell her I am dead." And he dictated as follows: "My beloved wife Lukerya Petrovna, I have to tell you that my last hour is come. God has not permitted that we should see one another again. Take care of Yavutka and Dunka. If you marry again, see that your new husband does not beat them. Sell the mare to Rene Ryaboff, but not for less than 70 roubles. That is its price to-day. Have the house whitewashed, and accept three roubles from Peter Berrushoff for the outgo. Old uncle Vlas will whitewash the house for 20 kopeks."

"I have been wounded in the back, and the bullet has gone clean through me and come out through the breast. It was the will of God. I think, Lukerya, that it would be better to sell the calf and buy a calf of Gavriloff. Horses will continue to go up in price. Forgive me all, for the love of Christ."

"We covered his head," says the doctor, "and passed on, as others were crying for us. He remained alone. Twenty minutes later we passed by again. He was dead. His hands were crossed over his breast. He had crossed them himself, waiting for death in full consciousness, without a complaint, without a word."

"That is how our peasants die."

POLISH LADIES HANGED.

Judge Goes Mad.

Zurich, Thursday July 22.
According to reports which have reached here five Polish ladies of noble birth, and moving in the most aristocratic circles of Austrian society, were arrested in Vienna a fortnight ago on charges of espionage in the interests of Russia. They were tried immediately, convicted, and sentenced to be hanged next day at the Vienna Arsenal.

The judge presiding at the trial was obliged to attend to the sentence carried out. The execution proved such a harrowing spectacle that he entirely collapsed and lost his reason. He has since been removed to an asylum for the insane at St. Michael, suburb of Vienna.—Reuter.

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt may not be a journal of the highest calibre, but it is certainly typical of the German Press. The latest issue to hand contains the statement: "There are no such things as the principles of humanity. Poisonous gas is but one instrument of warfare among many others; the outcry against it is due to the fact that it has not yet been universally adopted. In war there is no such thing as humanity, nor should there be, and all the institutions of the Hague Conference on this subject but are so much childish prattle." As a pendant to this statement is an "extraordinary mild method of w.e." Such frank admissions deserve to be set on record.

For example, The Daily Mail says:-

"Yet another 'Who's Who' and this time from Japan! The reader is apt at first to regard it as a curiosity, as a sign that the East has now become Western practically almost to the last detail. But

'Who's Who in Japan' is far more than a curiosity; it is a very sound and useful reference book. It is printed in English and contains brief biographies, on the accepted model of prominent men in Japan.

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations or "biliousness" with its aches and pains is the result.

ENO'S
FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhoea by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.

Prepared only by

THE CLAIM TO SERVE.

Mr. Lloyd George's Promise.

Mr. Lloyd George has gladly and eagerly accepted the offer of the help of women in making munitions and other forms of war work which was made to him on Saturday (June 17) by Mrs. Pankhurst and other ladies notable in public life.That there was reality and substance in the offer was proved by the long procession of women, mainly of the working classes, who marched through West London with banners and bands before the deputation waited upon Mr. Lloyd George. It was an impressive demonstration, and but for the inclemency of the weather it would have been a very beautiful one also. The pageant was happily, not altogether spoiled, and the lowering skies and the cold, driving rain only brought out into clearer relief the spirit of service which animated the assembly.Mr. Lloyd George's encouraging words.
Mr. Lloyd George, with Mr. Churchill, saw the procession go by on the Embankment from a platform erected in the grounds of the Department of Munitions.
He was deeply moved by it, as he afterwards told the deputation in his room at the Department. He mentioned two prejudices which were affecting the employment of women in the workshops.The conservatism of manufacturers who have always been accustomed to seeing men doing this work and could not be persuaded that women could do it as well if not better.The apprehensions of working men that if women were successful in this class of labour they would be retained after the war and men would feel their competition in looking for jobs.Dealing with the latter point Mr. Lloyd George said the work was war work, and therefore would come to an end when the war was over. Then he stated the measures which the Government propose to take in order to enlarge the field of female labour in the making of munitions.
They are these:—A register of women who are prepared to give all their time to the kind of work in which they are particularly skilled.The special training of a number of women for the direction and instruction of female labour in the workshops.The Government, he added, would not avail themselves of the services of women merely to get cheap labour. Women would be paid for piece work the same as men; and for time work a minimum rate of wages would be fixed.

THE PAGEANT OF THE ALLIES.

The most notable feature of the procession was the pageant of the Allies.
It was headed by a girl wearing a Grecian robe of white fringed with gold, and carrying a trophy composed of the flags of the nations at war with Germany.LOSING WEIGHT

lative powers are decreasing.WATERBURY'S only obtain a profit one-fifth greater than in a period when the machinery was only used, and the staff employed, for eight hours instead of twenty-four hours per day. Here there is another case where there is one law for the worker and another for the employer. If it be right to increase the remuneration of labour according to the time worked or the work done, surely the same principle ought to have been applied to the remuneration of the employer. And yet employers have not publicly complained.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HASKETT.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Haskett, wife of Mr. G. H. Haskett of the Public Works Department, who died on Friday, took place on Saturday at Happy Valley Cemetery.

Mrs. Haskett had only been in the East a short time but she had done much valuable work in connection with the Wesleyan Guild and interested herself greatly in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home. A bearing party was voluntarily supplied by them.

The following representatives of the Public Works Department were present at the funeral: Messrs. Ewing, Simmons, Ling, Pryde, Hamer and Randall.

The service was conducted by the Rev. T. W. Robinson. A large number of beautiful wreaths were sent.

FORTY-ONE YEARS' GOVERNMENT SERVICE.

Mr. George Ng Fuk Shang, of the Police Department, was entertained at dinner on Saturday evening at Sheklong by his colleagues in the Junior Civil Service on the occasion of his retirement after 41 years' Government service. Over fifty gentlemen were present, with Mr. E. H. D'Aquino, the doyen of the Civil Service in the Colony, presiding. In 1877 Mr. Shang received a diploma and medal for his services in connection with the Indian and Colonial Exhibition, and, three years later, commendation from the Government and Colonial Treasurer for his work in connection with the accounts.

WAR MUNITION, WAGES AND PROFITS.

In an article in the current issue of "Engineering" to hand, some interesting observations are made on the above subject. It is a fundamental principle in economics that one should buy in the cheapest market and sell in the dearest. But, as the writer quoted pertinently points out, all such axioms in political economy must go by the board in the presence of national danger. Notwithstanding this every worker in the country to-day is practically dominated by this political principle. We hear much of the increased cost of living due to war conditions. No one can deny that the cost of living has gone up. This is due in some measure to the increased cost of production, consequent, first, on the supply of labour falling short of the demand for it, and to the aim of the worker to obtain higher remuneration for the same physical effort. Cause and effect act and react, and thus the cost of living is unduly inflated. But apart altogether from the influence of national exigency, the continuity of employment and the need for overtime puts within reach of the worker an addition to income per week enormously greater than the amount of the increase in the cost of living. In contrast to this there is the case of those whose income is not thus affected by the demand for labour in connection with the maintenance of the Navy and the Army—the salaried class, clerks and others engaged on civil work, seamen in the East End, whose income has not been increased, and whose continuity of employment is even jeopardised. Coming to bed-rock, the cost of living has been utilised as a stalking-horse for the agitator who seeks to exploit the national situation for the personal gain of workers.

The war bonus granted is in nearly all cases enormously greater than the promised increase of one-fifth on average profits earned by the manufacturers in 1912-14. In most factories the war bonus takes the form of an increase in wage per unit of work done, or per unit of time spent in the works, so that the increase in wage is proportionate to the turnover. In the case of employers, however, two years are taken arbitrarily as a basis of calculation, and the Munitions Act lays down the principle that, apart altogether from the utilisation of machinery, representing capital, continuously from midnight on Sunday to midnight on the following Saturday, capital can

NEWS OF THE DAY.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Mr. Nicholl, of The Peak, was fined $3 at the Police Court this morning for allowing his dog to be unmuzzled.

The Hongkong Rope Manufacturing Co. have declared an interim dividend of one dollar per share.

A sum of $900 is stated to have been stolen from a box in the cabin of the mistress of the licensed cargo boat 3052 V.

The King has been pleased to approve of Senior Don Salvador M. Cervera as Consul of Peru at Hongkong, and Mr. Chia Wen Yien as Consul of China at Rangoon.

The Japanese manager of the Tai Wan Bank, residing at 12 Macdonnell Road, has reported the theft from his bedroom of $71.40 in money and jewellery valued at $95.

A Chinese coolie has been sent to the Government Civil Hospital with injuries to the left arm, received while he was being chased by a Kowloon gadawa watchman, following the alleged larceny of a pair of shoes from the s.s. Gloucester.

We are informed that on account of the war the Vice-Consul in charge of the local Netherlands Consulate General will not be "at home" to-morrow, the 31st August, the anniversary of the birthday of Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands.

Mr. F. B. Tours, son of Mr. B. O. Tours, C.M.G., of the British Consular Service, has just passed into Osborne as a Naval Cadet. He was one of the four candidates who obtained distinction, and appeared in the pass list of 107 with a star against his name.

Two deaths (Chinese) occurred last week from bubonic plague. There was one British case of puerperal fever which terminated fatally and two cases of enteric fever (Korean and British) one of which proved fatal. An Italian died during the same period from paratyphoid fever.

A few troops were leaving the railway station and a patriotic old lady came up to the Lieutenant who was superintending the train of his men. "I wish you good luck, Mister. You'll all come back safe, and I'm sure you'll kill a lot of Germans." There was a burst of laughter from the carriers. They belonged to the Royal Army Medical Corps.

An Edinburgh doctor, writing home from the Dardanelles, mentions that the British soldiers there invariably call the enemy "Mr. John Turk." The name looks like a combination of the statement of a Scottish chaplain who wrote home from the Dardanelles a week or two ago maintaining that the Turk, though a hard fighter, was a fair fighter, when his German masters were not too close to him.

Pabang has done a great service to the F.M.S. turtle. We read in the F.M.S. Gazette that the State Council has passed a "Turtle's Egg Protection" the object of which is to provide for the restriction and regulation of the taking of turtle eggs; and gastronomic experts may read with relief that in the enactment "turtle" means any reptile of the genera Chelone, Thalassochelys, Dermochelys, Odontaspis, Callisaurus, B. agur or Hurdella.

AN ARMED ROBBERY.

Robberies by men armed with revolvers and carrying lighted torches, who bound up their hands, taking him, a boy of six years, were reported by a Chinese woman at Chetau Kok village on Saturday night.

Five men entered her house, and, after ordering them not to struggle, told them to produce their money and opium, three of them keeping guard while the others ransacked the house, taking £70 in money and jewellery and clothing valued at $78.

At the same time two men entered an adjoining house, where 14 st. cutters were asleep, and stole clothing valued at $15.

The robbers went away in a riving bus in a two-masted junk, which sailed away in the direction of Lintin.

CHARGE AGAINST AN EX-TRAMWAY EMPLOYEE.

A Chinese was charged, before Mr. Wood at the Magistrate's Court this morning with stealing $80 from the Electric Tramways Company. Inspector Gordon said defendant only left the service of the Company on Wednesday last. On Saturday evening he boarded a tram at the Tai Ping Theatre and rode as far as Happy Valley, being the only man then left in the tram according to both the conductor and the motor-man. When the conductor went to the other end of the car, a man was seen by two Porters going to take money from the cash box under the seat in the first class compartment, and both with it, but the two Porters could not identify him. None of the money had been recovered.

Mr. Gordon, Traffic Superintendent, agreed that there was not sufficient evidence, and the case was dismissed.

TRETTING CHILDREN.

TRETTING children have more or less diarrhoea, which can be controlled by giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. All that is necessary is to give the prescribed dose after each operation of the bowels, and the children will be cured. It is a sure and safe remedy, and is sold by all Chemists and Storekeepers.

THE MYSTIC EAST.

Ignorance of the outside world and especially of our Colonies is often met with among otherwise well-informed and sometimes prominent persons at Home, but the following, which is vouched for by our London correspondent, will be hard to beat.

"A manufacturer recently asked me in China, what section would you visit me to take, I replied, 'I would start a little further east and north.'"

OCCASIONAL NOTES.

The dead silence and the utter indifference with which the Star Ferry Company regards the numerous protests that have been hurled at its head by the public proves once more how useless it is to raise a word of complaint. The more we protest the more the monopolists choose to let the Government seem powerless to make on the withdrawal of the iniquitous increases. Columns and columns of protest have appeared in the local press and the public still suffers or endures the whims and fancies of the money grabbing monopolists. Something else of more definite nature will have to be inaugurated. A protest meeting might be held but what would be the institution of another service for the convenience of persons crossing the harbour. I have heard it suggested that various quarters and all that is wanted is just the energy and the laudable.

The manner in which this renowned ring of monopolists has organised a system to further cater for the public, is nothing short of a scandal and will never be remedied as long as the public tolerate it. Immediate action is essential. One month has elapsed since the advanced rates came into existence and there is not much to be said for the monopolists have benefited fairly well. If they had not seen an increased revenue ahead the fares would never have been increased. A profit of $75,338.78 (nearly $80,000) above the balance for 1909 when a 10 per cent. dividend was declared, and a dividend of 15 per cent. upon the profits of 1914, 10 cents per share is apparently not nearly sufficient profit which the directors—three in number—think that the shareholders should make. In addition we should not forget this—the Company's profits for 1914 were $1,174 which is a record. The figures in the next balance sheet should provide interesting reading and we shall also await keenly the accounts to be tendered to the shareholders—and the public—for the increase in fares this August.

And then as to the ferries themselves. If the monopolists refuse to amend the price list then it is high time the public turned on ferries that have some measure of comfort. The seats on the upper decks are extremely hard while the accommodation inside the cabins is equal to a very inferior first class Chinese railway that would have been scrapped years ago in any other country. One is really entitled to something more than the ordinary wooden bench at 20 cents a trip. The ferries are lavatory accommodation and the speed (at which, two at least, of the ferry fleet travel makes one wonder how long it will be before these antiquated tubs are superseded by ferries worthy of the name. I don't know if the Board of Trade regulations apply to Hongkong ferries but it is very certain that the life saving apparatus is hardly necessary if the ferries are so crowded and so directly in a collision and valuable lives are lost then something will be done. A serious collision would be one of the worst things that could happen, the passengers would be caught like rats in a trap for the seawings and side screws would prevent any escape. The passengers on the lower deck would have a much better chance.

"Be British" has been the battle cry in commerce for many a month. Big schemes are in operation for ousting German manufacturers, not forgetting pencils. Before the war, it is stated, three out of every five pens in use on the Continent were made at Buxton or the Harrogate Works in Victoria. Even the Government officials kept a large stock of German-made pencils, but the stock has now dimmed and been replaced by pencils of English and American manufacture. Many Hongkong offices are using German-made pencils but I think the use of German machines at the Headquarters Office of the South China Company is the last bit. Doubtless, like other offices, the Headquarters Office is using up old stock.

Fatal weapons are at a premium nowadays when the nation is intent on wholesale slaughter, and I do not imagine that Borneo for instance has any to spare, but if there is not an absolute famine in guns, we think the individual who writes the North Borneo Herald's German one, if it is not suffering from the jim jams, or from the complaints which afflict so many of the native community who are prone to address complaints and suggestions to newspapers, an exaggeration of the most pronounced description. He says:

"At present the burial ground has been fixed just opposite to my office building. (Some short distance) and it is very difficult to get sleep during night time, for the devastation of wild animals and devils are making big noise through the night till morning 4 a.m.

I have no neighbourhood at a nearest distance as almost all the houses are situated far away. Telegraph Building is bordered by three sided forest, leaving a small space opposite to the river. I am single and have no assistance with me during the night time. Some times I get of enormous magnitude wings its flight over the Telegraphic wires and monkeys are jumping from pole to pole. Wild boars make a noise like a gun firing. Under the above circumstances, I dread to go to sleep. I would like to request you to please arrange to supply me a gun, as early as possible to avoid these troublesome, which sometimes prevent me from doing any work.

Hoping you will supply me a gun sharply, for which, I shall be much thankful and obliged.

Your most obedient servant,

The sentry's challenge at the front, by the way, is no longer the orthodox, "Halt! Who goes there?" It is a short phrase, "Who are you?" The object of the sentry challenged a party of the Prince's Own Cavalry Light Infantry. Back came the response—"P.O.C.L.I." "I don't want to hear you say your ruddy alphabet," growled the sentry. "Who the blazes are you?"

A YUNNAN "STORM" IN A TEA-CUP.

THE BRITISH CONSUL AND FLAG-HOISTING.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

YUNNAN-FU, August 19.

Something like an international dispute in a tea cup has arisen at Yunnan-fu, the capital of Yunnan Province, on the question of the hoisting of a national flag. Mr. Amundsen, agent of the British and Foreign Bible Society, author of "The Land of the Lulus," and a well-known authority on the Tibetan language as well as Western Mandarin, has been stationed at Yunnan-fu for the last 12 years, and has earned the general respect and admiration of residents, both Chinese and foreign, throughout the province. He is a Norwegian by birth, but has become more or less anglicised in language and sympathies. He has, however, been in the habit of hoisting his national flag on special occasions, on a mast in his garden. No objection was made to this practice from any quarter until last year, when the present British Consul-General at Yunnan-fu, Mr. Goffe (who was transferred here from Hankow) warned Mr. Amundsen that the Norwegian flag must not be hoisted except with his permission. He said that as Mr. Amundsen represented a British society, the British flag must be used. The house adjacent to the society's depot was Mr. Amundsen's private property, but was recently made over by him to the Society at a nominal price. The Bible Society, as its name indicates, is British and Foreign, not exclusively British, either in its operations or its support. Mr. Amundsen, however, complied with the Consul's order, and on the recurrence of the Norwegian national festival on May 17 last, he applied for permission to hoist the Norwegian flag, which was at once granted. A few days afterwards occurred the death of a foreign resident, Mr. Upmuth, formerly a missionary in Szechuan but lately a teacher of English at Yunnan-fu. He having been a friend and neighbour of Mr. Amundsen's, living in the same street, the latter, without applying again for special permission, hoisted the Norwegian flag at his home. The street is a quiet and remote one, near the north gate, but it was not long before the Consul heard of the matter, and he at once repaired to Mr. Amundsen's, and peremptorily ordered him to lower his flag. An altercation followed. Mr. Goffe threatened Mr. Amundsen that he would cause his letters and goods to be stopped and that he would write a complaint of Mr. Amundsen's conduct to the latter's society. Mr. Amundsen's goods consist chiefly of Bibles and Scripture portions sent through the Chinese Post Office. Mr. Amundsen, for the sake of peace, removed his flag, and wrote an inquiry to Peking as to what were the rights of the matter. Inquiry is now being made into the facts by the British Legation, which also has temporary charge of the Norwegian affairs. The Consul on his part did not await the result of the complaint, as proposed, to the agent of the Bible Society at Shanghai, who at once replied to the Consul, (in a letter which the latter had not kept private) thanking him for drawing his attention to the matter. Mr. Amundsen's conduct, which he regrets, and promising to bring the matter to the notice of the Society's headquarters in London. No copy of this correspondence was given to Mr. Amundsen, who is thus placed in the position of a defendant who is being tried without being heard. The Consul, however, did forward to Mr. Amundsen a resume of the complaints he was bringing forward against him, which included a matter not pertinent to the flag incident, namely that he had been guilty of importing opium, on which this refers solely to an act of surrey he felt it incumbent upon him to carry out last year, when, to oblige the German Consul, Mr. Weiss, whose wife was in delicate health, he imported some butter, Mellin's food for the new born infant, and other provisions; but as this came to the British Consul's knowledge and was forbidden by him, Mr. Amundsen discontinued doing so.

Mr. Amundsen warmly denies that he has at any time acted prejudicially to British interests, and in this he is supported by members of all the Protestant missions in Yunnan-fu, who have signed a paper to that effect. The signatures include members of the China Inland Mission, the Church Missionary Society, the Protestant Missionary Union, and other bodies, as well as laymen.

It is stated that the British Consul also prohibited the representative of the British-American Tobacco Company at Yunnan-fu from flying the American flag over his place of residence, the agent complying. There appears to be much doubt as to the rights and privileges of individuals in the matter of the flying of national flags on Chinese soil. The Consul's threat to interfere with Mr. Amundsen's mails and parcels has caused much surprise.

ANNALS OF AN ISLE IN THE PACIFIC.

We have to acknowledge with thanks a booklet entitled "Annals of an Isle in the Pacific" by C. Winifred Leachmere Clift.

Mrs. Clift belongs to the Emmanuel Medical Mission, Xining, and describes a visit to Dumb-bell Island. The booklet is divided into bright little sketches, vivid and showing observation and humour. She treats her subject lightly and writes convincingly and well.

RAILED.

Mr. E. J. Kilbey of the freight department of the local office of the Pacific Mail S.S. Company, was the guest of the evening at a dinner given by a few friends at the King Edward Hotel on Saturday night, prior to his departure for San Francisco on Tuesday. The event was a great success. The dinner was admirably served, while the musical part, also very enjoyable, was conducted by Messrs. C. J. Higgins, botham, J. Smith, W. Crawford, R. G. Southerton, T. O. Wilkin, &c. Mr. G. Grimbale was, as usual, an excellent accompanist at the piano.

GERMANS CAUSING TROUBLE IN PERSIA.

LONDON, Aug. 28.

A telegram from Tehran says that the Russian and British Consuls, with escorts, were withdrawing from Kengavar when they were attacked by Schumennah (the German Consul Agent at Tabriz), with an armed band. The Consuls' escorts used their rifles in self-defence, and suffered losses. The German Consul was immediately summoned, and a request was sent to the Commander of a Persian Brigade of Cossacks to summon a detachment camped at Siana, four day's march from Kengavar.

KING OF SWEDEN HAS A NARROW ESCAPE.

His injuries were dressed in the saloon carriage and no serious consequences are feared.

Efforts Towards A Settlement.

LONDON, August 28.

The executive of the South Wales' Craftsmen, whose exclusion from the bonus awarded to the others is the primary cause of the renewed trouble, have decided to accept the owners' offer of a joint meeting to discuss the improved conditions of work and wages. Meanwhile, Mr. Runciman has consented to receive Welsh delegates to-day.

REPORTED SUBSTITUTE FOR INDIAN HEMP.

LONDON, Aug. 27.

The jute spinners and weavers of Hamburg, says a telegram from Hamburg, have been experimenting with wild meadow grass (epilobium) as a substitute for Indian hemp. The fibre is declared to be little inferior to hemp, and by cultivation, it is expected to make it equal to hemp, thus rendering Germany independent of India. The Minister of Agriculture has directed the local authorities to assist in securing supplies. Schoolchildren are employed in collecting the plant, sufficient of which has already been obtained for the war.

EXTRA TO THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, AUGUST 30, 1915.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLEMENT.

Leung Tik Kwong, alias Leung Tsz Ching, was charged before Mr. Lindsell at the Police Court this afternoon with embezzling $1560 received by him on behalf of the Wing Cheong Sing firm.

Mr. F. C. Jenkin appeared for the complainant and Mr. Eldon Potter instructed by Mr. W. E. L. Shenton, for the defendant.

Mr. Jenkin said that about Dec. 31, 1912, when the defendant was a member of the firm, there was forwarded through the On Yee Bank a sum of $1500 from a party in Canton. The money was in fact handed to the firm and the bank book was marked with the "money received" chop. The defendant received this money but failed to account for it. There was at present pending an action in the Supreme Court, in which present defendant was the plaintiff, bringing an action against two or three other people, some of whom he (Mr. Jenkin) recognised as being his witnesses in the present case. In an affidavit filed by the present defendant in that civil case he said that the money was received by a man named Tam Tat Chiu. He did not know anything about it. The prosecution would call evidence later to prove that the man Tam Tat Chiu was not only not the accountant but had nothing to do with the firm. There would also be evidence to show that defendant was actually the man who kept the books and received the money. In fact the entries in the books were entirely in his handwriting. The case was adjourned.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE VARIOUS FRONTS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

THE ZEPPELIN RAIDS ON ENGLAND.
OF NO MORAL OR MATERIAL PURPOSE.

LONDON, Aug. 29, 9.15 p.m.
The Admiralty issues a letter from Mr. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, in which it is stated that in the Zeppelin raids on England during the last twelve months 71 adults and 18 children were killed, and 189 adults and 31 children injured.
No soldier or sailor was killed and only on one occasion could the damage inflicted, by any stretch of language, be described as being of the smallest military importance.
The raids had been brutal, and had served no hostile purpose, either moral or material.

THE UNITED STATES AND GERMANY.
"A WAVE OF INCREASING DOUBTS."

LONDON, August 29, 4.30 p.m.
A telegram from Washington states that the optimistic speculations aroused by the German declaration has been followed by a wave of increasing doubts because of the information from German sources that a modification of the submarine warfare would be dependent on American representations to Great Britain. This is regarded as showing the possibility of many conditions being attached to the final German proposal. The United States hold that Germany's sincerity in the Arabic case must be established before she discusses the Lusitania case. The State Department feels that the information received from British and American sources is complete, but awaits the German presentation of the case before it makes its final decision.

INCREASED ACTIVITY ON THE WESTERN FRONT.

LONDON, Aug. 29, 5.35 p.m.
A Paris communique states that the artillery continued its continuous bombardment of the German lines during the night, particularly in the regions of Albert, Roye and North Leas and in the neighbourhood of Croone, Berry au Bac and between the Aisne and Argonne.
Violent hand-to-hand fighting occurred at Marie Therese and West Malancourt wood for possession of mine craters of which the French remain masters.
There was an intense bombardment of the enemy's trenches and working parties along the whole of the Lorraine frontier.

FRENCH ARTILLERY ACTIVITY.

LONDON, Aug. 30, 1.40 a.m.
A Paris communique states that French artillery activity continues over the greater part of the front with most successful results at several points.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE EASTERN FRONT.

RUSSIANS COPING SUCCESSFULLY WITH THE ENEMY.

LONDON, Aug. 29, 3.25 p.m.
Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says the Russians have successfully checked the German advance on Vilna, while they continue fighting in the retreat between Vilna and Pripiet, holding the enemy's offensive.
The Germans have begun two new attacks, one southward of Pripiet and the other on the East Galician front. The communique says that there is no change in the region of Riga, but in the direction of Pridnestrovie stubborn fighting continues.
The enemy is attempting to force the Russian lines towards the Kreuzburg-Mitau railway.
The enemy's night attack between the rivers Vilna and Niemen was held by Russian counter-attacks.
The enemy began an advance on August 25th in the district of Vladimirivsk in the direction of Torchin westward of Lutsk Lokatche on River Luga and Perek. There had been fighting on this front.
The Germans also attacked several sectors on the Upper Bug, Zlotopol and Dniester, being particularly vigorous northwards of Brieg and westward of Podguz, where he succeeded in establishing himself on the right bank of the Zlotopol.

RUSSIANS DISPUTING EVERY INCH OF GROUND.

LONDON, Aug. 30, 1.40 a.m.
A Petrograd communique states that the Russians are still disputing every inch of ground and have retired to another front behind Vladimirivsk in consequence of a big Austrian movement to turn the position in Galicia.

FIGHTING IN THE MOUNTAINS.

LONDON, Aug. 30, 1.40 a.m.
A telegram from Rome states that an Italian communique reports a daring attack on the Upper Isonzo against a strong Austrian position perched at an altitude of 7,000 feet. The enemy made a determined resistance with gun and rifle fire and showered grenades and boulders. The Italians, nevertheless, carried the trenches. The enemy is still retreating at the extreme summit.

THE HEROES OF EIS.

LONDON, August 28.
At Hull, bare-headed crowds watched the transfer of the remains of the victims of the E. 13 from the Danish funeral ship to the station. The coffins were covered with both the Union Jacks and the Danish colours. Masses of wreaths were sent by Danish sympathisers and piles of wreaths awaited the arrival of the bodies. Queen Alexandra sent one for each coffin.

BY TELEGRAPH.

GERMANY'S FUTILE REPLY TO SIR EDWARD GREY.

LONDON, August 29.
An Amsterdam telegram states that the Norddeutsche Zeitung, in a long and laboured reply to Sir Edward Grey's recent letter, makes another futile attempt to prove that Great Britain intended to land troops in Belgium, and that the latter, anyway, was determined not to resist the English violation of her neutrality.

Describing Sir Edward Grey's last interview with Prince Lieknowsky (Ambassador to London at the time of the outbreak of war), the Norddeutsche Zeitung admits that Sir Edward Grey assured the Ambassador that he was far from any idea of crushing Germany. All he wished was a restoration of peace as soon as possible under acceptable conditions, and the utmost limitation of the untimely misfortune that had fallen upon the civilised world.

The Ambassador observed that the role of arbitrator would come to him much sooner in the event of Great Britain remaining neutral.

Sir Edward Grey replied that he believed that Great Britain's participation would rather shorten the war.

The Norddeutsche Zeitung concludes that the German aim is not predominance, but to free Europe from Britain's brutal domination.

GERMANY "BACKING DOWN."

More Equivocation.

LONDON, August 29.
Germany is now "backing down" in her assurances to give America "full satisfaction." The latest promise is not to jeopardise the lives of neutrals. This, read in the light of President Wilson's Notes, cannot mean America's wishes, which are for the re-establishment of international law at sea. It is also pointed out that submarines cannot discriminate between neutrals and others, hence it is believed that the outrages will continue despite Germany's protestations and promises.

FRENCH SUPERIORITY OVER GERMAN AVIATORS.

LONDON, August 29.
A Paris communique states that the German's attempted a feeble effort to the recent great French air raids. Four aeroplanes flew over the French lines making for Paris. They were hotly pursued by French aviators. Three of the German machines promptly went to a retreat. Two of them regained their own lines but the third was brought down in flames in the middle of a forest, and the occupants were burned to death. The fourth dropped five bombs on Montmorency and was then driven off. A communique, issued on the 28th inst., announces that six German aeroplanes attempted at 10 o'clock in the morning to fly to Paris, but failed in their objective and dropped bombs on Nogent, Ribecourt and Compeigne, killing two nurses and a child as Compeigne. French aeroplanes pursued and bombarded the German machines, and the commander of the squadron chased a German aeroplane at a height of 3,000 metres and crashed it at Senlis. The pilot of the machine was incinerated.

COTTON AS CONTRABAND.

LONDON, August 28.
Regarding the declaration of cotton as contraband, Le Matin points out that the annual world's crop exceeds 21,245 million pounds, representing $352,000,000 sterling, or three and a half times the value of gold extracted annually. It will thus be easily comprehensible that precautions must be taken to avoid such a precious and abundant commodity remaining mutilated and unproductive.

THE BREST-LITOVSK ASSAULT.

LONDON, August 28.
The General Staff announces that the German claim to have assaulted Brest-Litovsk is "not exact." The facts are that the Russians had long previously decided that it would be inexpedient to shut up a garrison of 100,000 men, and consequently all valuable material was removed in good time. The forts on the left bank of the Bug alone resisted in order to allow the Russian armies to retire eastward, and when this movement had been effected the fortifications and bridges were destroyed, and the garrisons of these forts rejoined the armies in the field. Thus the Germans got no booty.

COMMERCIAL.
COTTON AND YARN.

Messrs James F. Hutton & Co., Ltd., of Manchester in their Weekly Market report dated July 28 say:—

There is still a steady market as far as the value of the raw material is concerned, the daily fluctuations having up to nominally where we have been for some time. Nothing in the present outlook suggests that cotton will advance very much in the near future. There is plenty of cotton available and all the reports on the growing crop are favourable. Speculation is at the moment dead, which is only to be expected with financial questions so uncertain and naturally developments are awaited.

In the Manchester market there are no indications of any revival in demand for the woven article and the holding of buyers gets more pronounced; small lots to meet urgent wants being all that is done. The reports of looms being stopped are increasing, from lack of orders to put into them in some quarters, while in other quarters through shortage of hands to run them. India is not doing much, but experiences seem to vary. Calcutta is however certainly dull, and reports speak of declining values in that market with advancing prices on this side. Prices for cloth are undoubtedly advancing, not on account of the raw material, but through the increased costs of production which are continually coming into being and with all margins one cannot say profits, being on a much lower basis than usual each small advance has to be taken into calculation. Dhooty and Shirting makers seem to be worse off than the Barmley sections with bleaching and printing cloth, and consequently some low figures are being taken where offers are at all reasonable.

The increase in costs this week comes in the shape of a 5 per cent advance in wages awarded by arbitration to those connected with the spinning section of the trade, and it can only be expected that the weaving operatives will press for the same advance. Notwithstanding this advance, spinners have not been able this week to obtain future selling of yarn, producers are bound to take this increased cost of production into account.

SNUBBING THE KAISER.

Amusing Story.

Mr. Albert Aveline, of the Paris Opera, who was mobilised as a stretcher-bearer, has arrived from Germany, where he was taken prisoner. He relates in the Parisian an interview between the Kaiser and a French infantry sergeant at Cambrai, which he witnessed. The Kaiser, attracted by the number of the sergeant's collar, went up to him and loudly praised the regiment. "I know it well, and am very fond of it," he said. "Not more than I am," replied the sergeant, unperturbed, but somewhat taken aback by this uncalculated friendship. The Kaiser then asked his views on the food provided for the prisoners. The sergeant said: "We are given absolutely unpalatable stuff, and are waiting the time when William II. will give us nothing but bricks."

LADY PASSENGER DISAPPEARS.

Miss Katherine Eckland, an American, formerly a resident of Yokohama, disappeared during the last voyage of the O.P.R. steamer Montezuma from Hong Kong to Shanghai. There is nothing to indicate whether she fell overboard by accident or jumped overboard. She was last seen before dinner the evening after leaving Hong Kong. The next morning the cabin boy reported that she was missing. A search was made for her on board, but she could not be found. Her belongings were undisturbed in her cabin. Miss Eckland came to the Far East about eight years ago, and was in the Standard Oil office in Yokohama for a time, and then for several years stenographer to Mr. Charles H. Blake. She left Shanghai two years ago for home, and a few months ago wrote to Mr. Blake asking if she could have her position again. Receiving an affirmative reply, Miss Eckland was on her way to resume her position. She had a sister in Denver, Colorado.

More than 5,000 German soldiers fighting in Gallipoli have been awarded the new Turkish decoration, the Iron Crescent.
